Module 2: Understanding Employment Equity
Employment equity means more than just treating persons equally.

Employment equity is a means to ensure systemic discrimination does not occur by removing barriers in practices and policies and attitudes.

Providing equity requires that organizations put in place measures to accommodate the unique differences among people.

Strives to achieve equality in the workplace and correct the conditions of disadvantage in employment experienced by:

- Women
- Racialized Persons
- Indigenous Persons
- LGBTQ+ Persons
- Persons with Disabilities
Under the Employment Equity Act, the term Persons with disabilities is defined as “persons who have a long-term or recurring physical, mental, sensory, psychiatric or learning impairment” and who:

(a) consider themselves to be disadvantaged in employment by reason of that impairment,

(b) believe that an employer or potential employer is likely to consider them to be disadvantaged in employment by reason of that impairment.
